

Urgent police announcement:

Further investigation revealed that accomplices of the mayor are still walking free. The accomplices can be identified by wearing a hat. This trademark is the only thing the police force has been able to find out from the investigation.

We would like to ask you, as possible future leaders of this city, to help us. Be careful though, if you see an accomplice walking take a picture as inconspicuously as possible. This is for your own safety. Please forward the photo to us so we can track them down.

For every clue you get a vote from us!